Restoration for town churchyard

THOUSANDS of pounds will be spent on a project to transform St Mary's churchyard into a "nice and relaxing" focal attraction in Haverhill town centre.

Major rejuvenation work will take place to improve the underused area off the High Street into a place of foliage, artwork and serenity, Haverhill in Bloom has said, which is spearheading the project.

Ben Pumfrey, chairman of Haverhill in Bloom, said about two years ago the charity was approached by St Edmundsbury Borough Council to see if it would be interested in leading the renovation and this year the In Bloom team has refocused its efforts to concentrate on raising funds for the scheme.

He said: "The long term plan is to make the churchyard into a nice place for people to relax and enjoy, transforming it into an area for the High Street where people can sit and make use of its beautiful surroundings."

"It will also be a place where visitors to the town can come to see the garden."

New lighting, planting, landscaping and even the possibility of a new path being installed has been suggested and volunteers at Haverhill in Bloom are working hard to finalise plans and apply for grants.

A cost has yet to be set for the overall project, which is hoped to be started in January, and funding has been secured from Haverhill Town Council, St Edmundsbury and One Haverhill.

Artwork could be installed in the "windows" around the edge of the churchyard and project leaders are already looking at getting local schools involved as well as the local history society.

Authentically designed cast-iron railings mirroring the Victorian feel of the town could be reinstalled, Mr Pumfrey said.

He added: "There are a lot of old headstones and memorials which need cleaning up but we don't want to get rid of them. It's really important to keep the character of it, so we're going to make sure they're safe and in the right place."

"We would really like the garden to have a period Victorian feel because that's what all the architecture is in the local area and it'll be done to such a good standard that it will provide a perfect backdrop for weddings, occasions and for schools to come and learn."

One Haverhill has stumped up £5,000, as has St Edmundsbury, which will be restoring the memorials and headstones.

The town council approved £10,000 of funding last week.

Will Austin, town clerk, said: "We're very enthusiastic about the project to bring this important part of our town centre up to date with renewed planting and installing artwork around the edge of the garden."

A majority of the work will be carried out by volunteers at Haverhill in Bloom and anyone wanting to get involved should contact Mr Pumfrey on (01440) 704768 or email bpumfrey1@sky.com

Plans unveiled: Samuel Ward Academy in Haverhill has been given permission to build a special needs school on its site – the Churchill Special Free School will be overseen by the academy's principal Howard Lay, pictured back right with town mayor Pat Hanlon, and parents and children who attended the launch. # Teams prepared for the wintry weather

THE county is “more prepared than ever” for the icy winter months, Suffolk County Council has said.

With 25,000 tonnes of salt, 58 gritters, nine salt barns and more than 120 staff, the council said its gritting teams and community volunteers are equipped to tackle almost 3,300km of the county’s roads.

This year teams are using pre-wet salt for more than half of their routes, which uses 30 per cent less salt.

On average, there are approximately 75 nights of treatments per year, with an average of 12,000 to 15,000 tonnes of salt used per season, the council said.

Cllr Guy McGregor, cabinet member for roads, transport and planning, said: “Our teams use the latest weather systems to monitor road temperatures and take decisions just hours in advance, sending our gritters out if necessary.

“We are responsible for keeping traffic moving over 1,200 miles of roads, and that’s just for our priority major roads and busy commuter routes.

“Thanks to our dedicated staff, excellent resources and additional salt barns we are better placed than ever before to keep Suffolk moving in severe winter weather.”

Tribute: flowers at Hanover Court after the killing of 'Kyjah' Brown.

Teenager admits fatal stabbing

BY LEANNE EHREN AND ANDREW DICKENS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A TEENAGER has admitted stabbing to death 26-year-old Miciajah Brown in a night of violence.

Ade Adeniran, 19, of Hanover Court, Trumpington, also pleaded guilty to two further charges of wounding with intent to cause grievous bodily harm to the victim's friends – Takudzwa Collins Musavengana, of Osprey Road, Haverhill, and Noorul Miah.

Adreniran denied the murder of 'Kyjah' – who died in the early hours of March 3 – but admitted a lesser charge of manslaughter on the grounds of loss of control just before his trial was due to start at Cambridge Crown Court on Monday.

The lesser charge was accepted by the prosecution.

John Farmer, prosecuting, said: “It doesn’t make the incident a trivial one. This is still extremely serious.

“The defendant also caused life-threatening injuries to one man and very serious to another.”

The court heard the violence started with a brawl in Cambridge’s market square, thought to have involved between 20 and 30 people.

A further incident took place at a house in Ditton Walk before coming to a head at a block of flats in Hanover Court, off Hills Road, where Mr Brown was fatally stabbed just before 6.30am.

The father-of-three died of multiple stab wounds – one of which severed a main artery in his thigh.

Collins Musavengana and Noorul Miah were taken to Addenbrooke’s Hospital with serious knife wounds.

Twenty-one-year-old Collins Musavengana, who was stabbed in the leg, pleaded guilty last month in court to affray, having a bladed article and aggravated burglary, which were all committed on the same day as the brawl.

He was handed a 12-month prison sentence on October 17.

Adeniran will be sentenced on December 10.

Action call at crossing after man is injured

THE future of a zebra crossing is being put under scrutiny after a man was injured during a serious collision with a car.

The 24-year-old local man was rushed to Addenbrooke’s Hospital after colliding with the windscreen of a car as he used the crossing in Withersfield Road, Haverhill.

Police and an ambulance were called at just after 7pm on Tuesday to the busy road, just outside the Rose and Crown, following reports that a man had been involved in an accident with a blue Renault Kangoo.

A police spokesman said: “A 24-year-old man was taken to hospital with possible life-changing head injuries. Police managed traffic and closed the road.”

The accident has highlighted that the crossing can sometimes not be seen clearly by motorists as they approach. A call for action has now been made.

Will Austin, town clerk, said: “The town council can see that this zebra crossing needs attention to ensure that it’s properly visible to oncoming traffic.

“We’re saddened and very sorry to hear of the accident involving a young man.

“We will now be pressing to have the future of the crossing looked at – if nothing else, that the road markings and the lighting are attended to and that the positioning of the crossing be reconfigured by Suffolk County Council to make sure it is correct.”

The road was closed just before 7.30pm and the Renault recovered before police reopened it 10.30pm.

No one else was injured and no arrests have been made.

Worker is accused of £28k theft

A MAN accused of stealing more than £28,000 from his employer will be appear at crown court.

Joseph Dacus, 31, of Westward Deals, in Kedington, indicated a guilty plea to two charges of theft by an employee when he appeared at Bury St Edmunds Magistrates’ Court on Tuesday.

The charges state he stole cash via 44 transactions on the “Buy Back” scheme to a value of £5,262 between May 16 and June 28 this year, and another £22,828.20 via 176 transactions between May 20 and July 27 this year on the “Buys” scheme, both of which were from his employer Peter Farthing, franchise owner of Cash Converters in Bury St Edmunds.

The case has been committed to Ipswich Crown Court at a date to be fixed.

Council budget set for scrutiny

THE county's budget for the next year will be scrutinised to see if savings are being made efficiently.

Suffolk County Council's scrutiny committee will meet on Monday to examine the current financial position, observe the process it is using to create its 2013/14 budget and consider proposals for spending and savings.

It will examine to what extent the 2012/13 budget is on target, the process for setting the 2013/14 budget and how proposed savings will be made.

Suffolk County Council set a budget requirement of £466.916 million for the year 2012/13.

The budget included a target for planned savings of £26.190 million to reach a balanced budget as part of a two-year savings plan of £53.100 million for 2012/13 and 2013/14.

The budget for 2013/14 is the third year of savings as part of the government's austerity measures and the second year of the county council's two-year saving plan, which focuses on delivering a series of savings initiatives which should limit the need for service reductions.

The savings proposals focus on targeting resources where they have most effect in reducing demand in adult and children's care, reducing bureaucracy, waste and complexity across the organisation and cutting the number of senior managers.

Renegotiating contracts, rationalising accommodation and buildings and working with the health service and district partners have all been part of the plans to reduce costs.

Cllr Colin Hart, chairman of the scrutiny committee said: "Although most of the proposed savings involve efficiencies rather than service cuts, we will obviously want to know the likely effect on services and how the savings can be achieved."

Cabinet will consider and recommend the budget in January, for it to be agreed by full council in February.

Special school will break down barrier

"DIFFICULTIES mastered are opportunities won" was the message a new special school in Haverhill emphasised as it unveiled its latest plans.

Samuel Ward Academy won the bid from the Department of Education in July to open Churchill Special Free School on its site in September 2013.

Prospective parents, nearby residents, education chiefs and teachers met last night as part of the consultation to hear the latest developments since the announcement in the summer.

Howard Lay, principal of Samuel Ward, said: "Pupils with communication difficulties often find themselves detached, isolated and alone in a box and not able to relate to the rest of the world. This is barrier we want to break down at Churchill."

"There has been an explosive increase in the number of children with disorders on the autistic spectrum and it was highlighted that locally there was a desperate need for this facility."

BY LEANNE EHREN

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

The school is for youngsters aged 8 to 18 with language, communication and interaction difficulties. Pupils will come from Suffolk, Cambridgeshire and Essex and the maximum capacity is 70 pupils.

There will be specialist teachers, a speech and language therapist and a headteacher with specialist experience, who is due to be appointed by the end of the year.

Custom built classrooms will make up the modular building on the Samuel Ward site, with special lighting and resources designed to meet the needs of students.

Tracy and Steve Porter, from Newmarket, have a 10-year-old son with Asperger's Syndrome and were among prospective parents at the meeting.

Tracy said: "The prospect of it is really exciting. We feel we have to struggle to get the best for our child but if he could come somewhere like this, then that would be great. It means he will really get a good chance.

"I also like that there is opportunity for the children to integrate into the main school, preparing him for life and the big world when he is older."

June McNaughton, a school governor, added: "We don't want to open a special school which has an invisible fence around it. Over time we hope youngsters will learn to work amongst their peers as much as they can."

Haverhill town mayor Pat Hanlon is chairman of the Haverhill Autism Support Group and has a granddaughter with autism.

He said: "There's a great need for this provision here. A lot of parents have to fight Suffolk County Council to try to get the best for their children with special educational needs and Churchill will go a long way in helping parents and students with their anxieties about mainstream school."

Sign here: double bronze Olympic medallist Max Whitlock who visited the club.

Top guest joins in celebrations

YOUNG gymnasts were thrilled to meet an Olympic medallist when he presented their club with an accreditation plaque.

Double bronze medallist Max Whitlock presented Haverhill Gymnastics Club with its GymMark from national organisation British Gymnastics last weekend.

The club has spent six months working hard to achieve the accreditation, which was awarded to recognise its newly implemented management framework.

A spokesman for the club said: "This is timely exposure for the club who are pushing hard to raise funds for a stand alone facility, desperately required to accommodate a waiting list of approximately 300 children."

More than 200 members currently use the club, which practices at Haverhill Leisure Centre on Mondays and Saturdays, but it desperately wants its own facility to accommodate growing demand.

Haverhill Gymnastics is trying to raise £600,000 for the project and has an application submitted to Sport England's Inspired Facilities match-funding programme for £150,000.

The club said if its bid is approved, other funders are lined up to match the grant, which will take it halfway to its target.

To find out the latest information about the club's fundraising efforts, log on to www.haverhillgymnastics.org/blog.

All together: Haverhill Gymnastics Club have been working hard to attain their GymMark accreditation from British Gymnastics.

Road safety campaign for all users

CYCLISTS and motorists are being encouraged to look out for each other as part of a countywide road safety campaign.

Let's Look Out For Each Other, launched by Suffolk Roadsafte Partnership, focuses on drivers and cyclists increasing their awareness and sharing the road safely.

Officers from Suffolk Police will be stopping cyclists in Haverhill who are seen without lights, helmets or wearing reflective clothing and offering them advice.

They will also be handing out leaflets to both cyclists and drivers, which detail ways in which everyone can be safer on the roads.

Sgt Paul Ward, Suffolk Police casualty reduction team, said: "There has been a noticeable increase in cyclists over the last few years, with the sporting successes we have seen in the Olympics and the Tour de France cycling is becoming much more popular.

"However, this does mean that we have also seen a 25 per cent increase in cyclists killed and seriously injured in the last two years, both nationally and in Suffolk.

"This increase cannot be put solely down to either cyclists or motorists so we want to encourage all parties to look out for each other and stay safe on the roads.

"Cyclists need to be visible, wear bright clothing, use lights and reflectors and wear a cycle helmet.

"At the same time drivers need to look out for cyclists and other vulnerable road users such as pedestrians and motorcyclists.

"Some drivers continue to do things while driving such as using mobile phones and other devices, which can cause them to be distracted and not aware of everything and everyone around them."

A number of local shops, including Aero Cycles, in Maple Park, Haverhill, are also supporting the campaign by giving discounts.

Santa to visit school

THERE are prizes to be won at a primary school's Christmas fayre in Haverhill.

Father Christmas will be at Coupals Primary School and there will be games, craft stalls, cakes, toys and books for sale, face painting and refreshments.

It takes place on Friday, November 30, at the school, in Chalkstone Way, from 3.30pm. Entry is free and for more information call (01440) 712247.

Craft fayre at church

A CHRISTMAS craft fayre will run in a Haverhill church on Saturday.

Crafts, cakes, tombola, bric-a-brac and nearly new stalls will be at the event in St Mary's Church, Market Square, from 10am until 1pm and all are welcome.

New coach brings more benefits to students

STUDENTS across Haverhill and beyond are now enjoying the benefits of additional rugby coaching via an exciting scheme at Castle Manor Academy.

The All Schools Project is an RFU scheme to encourage participation in rugby, which is already successful at Castle Manor Academy.

The new coach, Rob Conquest, is now at Castle Manor Academy for 10 hours a week and works alongside PE teacher, and former Scottish international player, Graham Ellis, to deliver rugby training.

Local primary schools have also been invited to take part in the scheme and extend the benefits beyond the secondary phase.

Pupils from these schools will be able to visit Castle Manor Academy and in some cases the coaches will go out and visit the primary schools.

Having recently started delivering the coaching sessions, Rob reflected on the rugby that happens already at the school.

He said: "There's lots of students here and I've seen a real cross section of the school.

"I've seen boys, girls, younger and older students and they all really enjoy the sessions.

"They seem to be seeing benefits from rugby and having two coaches at the training sessions is a real boost."

Ellis also reflected on the scheme during an after-school session.

He added: "In this session

there are nearly 40 students taking part.

"The benefits go beyond the rugby pitch as we're also teaching the students about the core values of rugby – teamwork, respect, enjoyment, discipline and sportsmanship.

"These values go far beyond the rugby pitch, right into the classroom and the outside world."

Rugby is a key part of the PE curriculum at Castle Manor Academy and is open to all students.

Well done: John Baillie hands the prize to Mattie Kaminski.

Apprentices take on tasks

CASTLE Manor Academy students were encouraged to take part in their own version of The Apprentice.

They were asked to apply to take part in competition, which ran every day last week.

On Monday morning the eight successful candidates were invited to go to Castle Manor Academy's business and training centre to take part.

Each day they were presented with a task to complete in the morning before appearing in 'the boardroom' in the afternoon to meet with 'Lord Sugar', in the form of local businessman and vice-chair of Castle Manor Academy's governing body, John Baillie.

The tasks varied each day and highlights included producing some marketing materials for two local singers – Jade Donno and Dale Bennet.

Dale had even created a song devoted to the competition which was the focus of their marketing.

The final day's challenge was to deliver a sales pitch to the entire academy in a special live final and encourage more students to apply next year.

The final two candidates, Greg Bush and Mattie Kaminski, fought hard all week to win the prize, an iPad sponsored by Haverhill Research Park.

In the end Mr Baillie announced that Mattie was the winner.

He said: "When I started the competition I wasn't really too bothered about the prize, but wanted to enjoy the competition.

"It's been a real challenge, though, and I know now that every time I pick up that iPad I'm going to think about the challenges of the week and how much fun it has been.

"It was really good to speak with and work with different people who I wouldn't normally talk to, but we've learnt to get along and work with one another."

Mr Baillie added: "It has been a tough week, with lots to take in each day and, of course, lots of work to do in between the competition.

"It has been really worthwhile, though, and seeing each of the students give their best has been wonderful.

"All of the candidates did really well and put in lots of effort.

"They should all feel proud of their achievements."

Paedophile is back in prison

A PAEDOPHILE has been jailed after he tried to "groom" a police officer he thought was a 13-year-old girl.

David Nicholson, of Haverhill, was caught in a police sting after he travelled to Bolton to meet 'Sam', the girl he had made contact with in an internet chatroom.

But Sam was in fact a police officer posing as a teenage girl.

Bolton Crown Court heard last Friday that Nicholson was arrested on August 23 at Bolton Links Golf Club.

The 55-year-old had a mattress in his van when he was stopped by officers.

Nicholson claimed he did not have an interest in young girls.

But the court heard he has previous convictions for grooming girls on the internet.

In 2002 he was jailed for four years for similar offences when he met a 13-year-old and a 15-year-old for sex.

The court heard Nicholson pursued 'Sam' for 23 days and sent her various messages about sex. He also sent an explicit video and an obscene picture.

Judge Peter Davies said: "This was a deliberate attempt to target a 13-year-old for intercourse.

"This was persistent for 23 days and you travelled a significant distance."

The court heard Nicholson has interest in young girls at times of stress or when he is not in a relationship.

He was released from prison in 2004 and was on licence until 2010. This is the first offence since.

Nicholson, of no fixed address, pleaded guilty to attempting to meet a 13-year-old for sexual activity, attempting to cause her to watch a video of sexual activity and sending an obscene message.

He was jailed for four years, with an extended licence period when he is released from prison.

Plenty to do: students get involved in Curriculum Day.

CP

Academy adding variety of activities

STUDENTS at Castle Manor Academy have been extending their learning far beyond the classroom at a Curriculum Day.

Pupils last Thursday had the chance to take part in a wide variety of activities both in the Haverhill school and elsewhere.

Year 7 youngsters visited a London mosque as part of their philosophy and ethics curriculum, Year 8s got involved in T-shirt printing and painting and Year 9s took part in a dance activity based around stage show Stomp.

Year 11s went to Birmingham to visit the Skills Show, an animal specialist came into school to show off rainforest animals to Year 10, Year 12s held a Fair Trade-themed catering day and Year 13s took part in a pathways event looking at where they wanted to go next.

Principal Madeleine Vigar said: "I've seen such high standards of learning. I've walked around the campus and the overwhelming sight is of motivated, enthusiastic learners.

"Our aim is to achieve what George Bernard Shaw set out: 'To see the child in pursuit of knowledge, not knowledge in pursuit of the child.' This day has really set that process in motion for our students."

Graffiti on buildings

VANDALS are being sought by police after graffiti was daubed on several buildings in Haverhill. Officers are appealing for information after a "number of buildings" in Withersfield Road were sprayed. Two businesses were targeted between 5pm on Tuesday, November 13, and 7.30am the following day. Calls with information should be made to Sgt Sarah Bartley on 101, or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Burglars get console

ALCOHOL and a Nintendo DS gaming console have been stolen in a burglary. Thieves got in to a property in Chainey Pieces, Haverhill, via an insecure rear door between 2pm and 6pm on Monday. Anyone with information should contact police on 101.

Free testing available

HIV and sexual health charity Terrence Higgins Trust is bringing its testing services to Haverhill as part of the country's first ever National HIV Testing Week.

The charity will run a series of events in Suffolk offering free, fast and confidential HIV tests for people at high risk of infection.

The team will be in Haverhill at Cangle Foyer on Tuesday, where residents will be invited to attend HIV awareness training run by the Terrence Higgins Trust team, followed by free testing.

Testing is done using a finger-prick blood test, with the results provided within one minute.

Anyone who takes a test will be given information and support before and afterwards and anyone who tests positive will be referred immediately to a specialist clinic.

Terrence Higgins Trust staff will also provide free condoms and information and advice on safer sex.

National HIV Testing Week, which is planned to be an annual event, is co-ordinated through HIV Prevention England (HPE), a partnership of community organisations funded by the Department of Health to carry out national HIV prevention work in England among communities at an increased risk of infection.

Group set to mark half-century

The Second Haverhill Sea Scouts Group is looking for ex-leaders and members to get in touch if they would like to be part of the celebratory event next year.

Help pets have improved lives

Sir, PDSA's new Animal Wellbeing (PAW) report was released last week and revealed that millions of pets' needs are being neglected. This isn't due to deliberate mistreatment – simply that many owners don't fully understand what their pets need to be healthy and happy.

There are a number of worrying findings in the PAW report, one of which is that nearly a third of dog owners have been bitten or attacked by a dog.

Aggression is most often caused by a lack of appropriate training and socialisation when dogs are young, which can lead to fears and aggression in later life.

But the report showed that many owners still don't take puppies to training classes, or understand how to socialise them properly.

Pet obesity and a lack of preventive care are also issues addressed in the PAW report.

Another stark finding is that many owners aren't aware of the five simple things pet owners need to provide by law to ensure their pets' long-term wellbeing.

All of the animal welfare issues the report assesses are preventable. As the UK's leading veterinary charity, we can't ignore this and want to do all we can to improve the physical and mental wellbeing of pets.

To help support owners we have launched our Better Life for Pets campaign and are urging all local pet owners, whether you have a dog, cat, rabbit or other small pet, to visit www.pdsa.org.uk/pawreport to read the PAW report and watch our unique pet welfare animation.

It may just take one or two small changes, but with your help we can make a better life for all pets a reality.

High Street car ban is ruled out for now

BY LEANNE EHREN

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

PEDESTRIANISING Haverhill's High Street in the near future is not on the current agenda, according to the Suffolk County Council.

The Haverhill Area Working Party (HAWP) was informed that the issue will not be pursued following a report by the county council.

Haverhill Town Council put across its views to St Edmundsbury Borough Council and the county council that the High Street should be pedestrianised.

But at the meeting last Thursday, Cllr Guy McGregor, county cabinet member for roads and transport, said the county council is not looking to take this course because it fears objections could leave them – and taxpayers – with a bill of £50,000.

Cllr McGregor said: "It's the view that we want the High Street to prosper and be successful and the question is how best to go about it."

"Our problem is we believe if we were to proceed with the full-blown scheme which prevents traffic from the High Street, there would be such considerable objections from parties that believe they would be seriously disadvantaged by the scheme that it would have to go to an inspector. This could leave the taxpayer with a bill of £50,000.

"There's obviously a need to make improvements in the High Street and that's what we're going to do."

The town council said it aims to address problems in the immediate future of traffic and parking in the High Street by looking into the prospect of bollards and cones.

They are also investigating the possibility of changing part of Camps Road to make it one-way.

Mayor Pat Hanlon said in a survey the town council carried out, about 70 per cent of people asked were in favour of pedestrianising the High Street.

He said: "We will continue our fight for it as we know it is the right thing to do for Haverhill."

"The whole town council, no matter what party people are from, feel passionate about this and it's just ridiculous that it cannot go ahead."

"We're also pushing for St Edmundsbury to give free parking for blue badge holders, to prevent them from parking on the High Street, which is a problem at present."

Will Austin, Haverhill town clerk, added: "The town council is very unhappy with the decision and the failure to present any justification for that decision."

"Most members at the meeting seemed to be reinforcing their support for pedestrianising it."

"The town council plans to continue to press HAWP to fight for pedestrianisation and to achieve this in the long term."

Town pub sets its sights on extension

A PUB is hoping to extend its facilities in Haverhill town centre.

Proposals have been submitted to build a single-storey extension to the back of The Royal Exchange, in the High Street, and to create a raised decking area.

The popular town centre pub, which is owned by brewer Greene King, submitted the plans to St Edmundsbury Borough Council earlier this month.

A Greene King

spokeswoman said: "We can confirm that a planning application for an extension at the Royal Exchange has been submitted."

"Many members of the local community use our pub regularly and we hope this development will create more space for our customers to enjoy."

A decision will hopefully be made by the council by the end of December.

Motorbike thieves strike

A MOTORCYCLE has been stolen from a garden in Haverhill.

The black and orange KTM Supercomp 620cc bike, registration Y936 GFG, was stolen from a garden in Burton End between 10pm on Tuesday, November 20, and 5.50am on Wednesday.

Offenders lifted fencing and dragged the bike to the road to steal it. Anyone with information should call police on 101.

College hosts the first languages conference

MORE than 50 teachers, school leaders and modern languages experts attended the first national Language Futures conference at a village college.

Language Futures was introduced at Linton Village College in 2009 and as part of the project students learn a language through a combination of modern technology and volunteer community members, instead of being directly taught.

Students in Year 8 are currently learning Italian, Spanish, Russian and Mandarin Chinese and the scheme has also been extended to Castle Manor Academy, in Haverhill, and Swavesey Village College.

The conference last month brought together a large number of language teachers to share ideas and resources and discuss ways of introducing the Language Futures methodology to their schools.

Delegates attended workshops and keynote speeches, and enjoyed tea and cakes with LVC students while talking about their experience of learning languages through the Language Futures programme. Vivien Corrie-Wing, deputy principal of the college, said: "It was wonderful to have the opportunity to share this innovation with colleagues from across the country."

"We are hoping that this conference will have sparked interest for other schools to become new field trial centres so that we can develop this creative model of language learning further."

LVC is recruiting volunteer community mentors to support students in French, Spanish, Italian, Mandarin and Russian.

For more information email Tina Rice at tina.rice@lvc.org.

Christmas is coming

A SPECIAL flower arranging demonstration will mark Christmas for a community club.

The Haverhill Flower Club is holding the Christmas is Coming at the town's arts centre on Monday, December 3, starting at 7.30pm.

Tickets cost £10 and can be purchased by calling (01440) 714140.

School's festive fun

ARTS and crafts, face painting and a raffle will feature at a school Christmas bazaar in Haverhill.

St Felix Primary School, in School Lane, is holding the event on Friday, November 30, from 6pm until 8pm. There will be a nearly new uniform stand, a range of stalls and hot food at the event.

Cost is likely to halt rail station

THERE will never be a railway station in Haverhill because of the cost, businesses and organisations have been told.

Haverhill firms, voluntary organisations and council representatives came together for thebestof Haverhill meeting last week to discuss the Cambridge to Colchester Rail Project.

Guests the Rev Malcolm Hill, chairman of the rail project, and David Edwards, vice-chairman, addressed an audience of more than 50 people with information on the rail link project and what was required to take it to the next stage.

Elaine Carr, owner of thebestofHaverhill, said:

BY LEANNE EHREN

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

"From the feeling at our meeting, the majority of people would welcome a railway for Haverhill."

"They see a railway as making travel easier, connecting Haverhill with the rest of the country."

"While there is a strong desire for a railway, the view was expressed by some of our guests that it would never happen because of the cost involved."

She said the town council has offered an unspecified amount of funding towards an engineering feasibility study and Peter Wakefield, chairman of Railfuture East Anglia, also pledged financial support on receipt of a proposal from the rail project.

Ms Carr added: "I think we will see the funding being raised for the feasibility study."

"I hope the information provided by that study will give the evidence to convince the Cambridgeshire, Suffolk and Essex County Councils that the project merits their attention."

"For me, there is no doubt that a railway would have a positive economic impact on town. It would make us more attractive to employers and I think encourage much-needed inward investment."

Chance to pay tributes

A POIGNANT service of remembrance will be held in Haverhill next month.

The annual Light up a Life services, held by St Nicholas Hospice Care, gives hundreds of people the chance to pay tribute to family members who have passed away.

The names of every person being remembered will be read out during the thanksgiving service at St Mary's Church, in Mill Road, on Sunday, December 16, at 3pm.

Charles Amoah, hospice chaplain, said: "The Light up a Life events are always a very special part of our calendar – it is something we want the whole community to come and share in.

"They allow people to pay their own special tributes to loved ones passed, regardless of whether they have been touched by hospice care or not.

"The Christmas season evokes a lot of memories we shared with our loved ones who are no longer with us.

"We gather to pray, share memories and remember those we have lost."

There is no charge for the Light up a Life event, but donations to the hospice are welcome.

Digital hero Lauren wins £5k award

BY LEANNE EHREN

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A CUSTOMER advisor from Havebury Housing who runs free computer courses for tenants has become the East of England's Digital Hero, winning £5,000 in the process.

Lauren Porter received the most public votes in the fifth Talk Talk Digital Heroes awards, which celebrate people who use digital technology to benefit their communities.

Lauren is responsible for the regular Computer Basics courses run by the Suffolk affordable housing provider on topics including online safety, word processing and social media.

These courses will now be enhanced with the £5,000 prize money, which will be presented at the House of Commons next Wednesday.

Lauren is also in the running for the national award alongside the 11 other regional winners, with a grand prize of £10,000 up for grabs.

The national winner will be chosen by a panel that includes dotcom entrepreneur and UK Digital Champion Martha Lane Fox and TalkTalk chairman Sir Charles Dunstone.

Lauren said: "I am delighted to have won this award.

"Havebury is committed to helping tenants increase their digital skills to enhance both work and life opportunities and I really enjoy helping our tenants in this way.

"I am excited to start planning how we will use this award to increase our tenant training programme and would like to thank everyone who voted for me."

The one-to-one sessions run by Lauren are delivered at a pace which suits the tenants, who are often older people who may not have undertaken training for a number of years.

Havebury chief executive Karen Mayhew added: "This award is testament to the hard work Lauren puts in to run these excellent courses.

"Our tenants really do benefit from them and we are delighted that we will be able to use the prize money to expand our offering even further.

"I would really encourage our tenants to take the opportunity to learn about technology through one of our courses, which are delivered in a friendly, accessible way."

Havebury, which has offices in Haverhill and Bury St Edmunds, is dedicated to serving both the existing and future housing needs of people in West Suffolk and parts of Cambridge.

A charity and not-for-profit association, it currently manages 6,000 homes.

We're having fun for Pudsey!

People across Haverhill were raising money for Children in Need last week. Here are some of their stories.

DOZENS of pre-school children turned spotty for a day to raise funds.

More than 40 youngsters from Little Wonders Pre-school, in Chalkstone Way, Haverhill, donned spotty clothes and had fun joining in a Pudsey sweepstake.

They made cakes and biscuits decorated with Smarties and then invited parents for a morning tea party.

Kelly Nunn, administrator at the pre-school, said: "It was really good fun. The children really enjoyed themselves and I think the parents did too. They tucked into sweet treats and sang songs."

Spotty tea party: Maisie Bowyer, 3, Leo Last, 23 months, with staff member Clare Adams and Charlie Nunn, 3.

PEDAL power pushed clients and staff at a Haverhill gym to clock up the miles and raise £200 for Pudsey.

The team at Haverhill Leisure Centre, in Ehringshausen Way, cycled the distance from Land's End to John O'Groats to raise money for Children in Need.

It was the fourth year the centre held the challenge and every member had the chance to contribute to the 1,720-mile rise, which was completed on static bikes over five days.

Staff also got soapy on Friday when they held a charity car wash and in Kid City, there was a penalty shoot-out against Scales, the centre's mascot dragon, and a competition to guess the number of sweets in the jar.

Fitness manager Matt Hickey said:

"The Land's End to John O'Groats static bike challenge has been a very popular event which we have run for the past four years, raising hundreds of pounds for Children in Need each year.

"The great thing about it is that all our gym members can take part, even if they just do just one mile at their own pace."

Fostering changed our lives

So good together: Jan Stiff and Louise Dale.

Picture: Duncan Lamont 871348

Louise Dale had been in and out of foster homes from just 6 months of age. Now 18, she's about to move into her own home, something she says she wouldn't be able to do without the help of her foster mum Jan Stiff. Interview by LOUISE MARTIN.

JAN Stiff and Louise Dale look like any other mother and daughter. Sitting on the sofa in their home they can't help but finish each other's sentences as they catch up on the day's events.

The women are clearly very close, but to 18-year-old Louise, who has been in foster care since she was just 6 months old, Jan is more than a mum: "She's the woman that changed my life."

Jan, 60, began fostering in 1997. A midwife for nearly 30 years, Jan admits the profession had taken over her life and she wanted to do something else.

"I was in charge of a large area and I was often working from 7 in the morning until 10 at night, so I wasn't having a life and I decided it was time to leave."

With her nursing background, which also included caring for disabled people, Jan was approached by social services to see if she would be interested in caring for a severely disabled child, and her fostering career began from there.

As a long-term foster carer, mainly working with teenagers, Jan has cared for many young adults on her own during the last 15 years, but is keen to point out it's not the number that's important to her.

"I do long-term fostering, so it's not about how many I do – it's about the quality," she smiles.

"I chose long-term because then I think the kids have got continuity and stability, and they can feel safe for longer rather than always coming and going."

"You can't stretch your care to so many teenagers, it just doesn't work."

Louise is one of the teenagers Jan has welcomed into her Newmarket home and, with the foster mum's unconditional love and support, Louise has transformed her life from being a self-confessed "troubled teen" to training to be a beauty therapist, and is about to move into her own home any day now.

Originally from Ipswich, Louise went into foster care when she was just 6 months old.

"My mum was a young mum, so she had difficulty understanding what to do with a young child because she didn't really have the childhood that she would have wanted," says Louise.

"She didn't know the first thing about looking after a child and she didn't have my dad to help her, so they (social services) thought it was best I went into care."

Louise was placed on the 'at risk' register and for her early years her care was divided between her mum and foster carers.

"They tried the respite thing with my mum, where I would go to a foster carer for a weekend to see if she would then be able to cope a bit better. It was that unstable I didn't know if I was going to be at home the next night or if I was going to be with a carer."

Louise was moved between her mum and foster carers until she was 5, when it was decided full responsibility would be taken over by social services.

"I've moved all over," says Louise. "I've moved to quite a few different homes – over 20 – for either a couple of nights or for longer. It was really tough."

When Louise first came to stay at Jan's she was 12 years old and in desperate need of a permanent placement. She stayed with Jan for a couple of years and, despite feeling safe and secure, she couldn't free herself from the routine of moving on again.

"I was stuck in that mindset of always moving around," says Louise. "When I moved out of Jan's for the first time I had got so used to being moved around that I was expecting someone to say 'you're going to need to move on now'."

"So I pushed Jan away and instead of me getting hurt and her saying, 'I don't want you anymore', which I know now she would never say, I said, 'I don't want you', and I went."

Louise stayed with other foster carers until she was 16 when she decided she wanted to live on her own.

"I moved into a hostel and I was there for 11 months," explains Louise. "I wanted to have my own place and look after myself and I did it, but I hated it."

After almost a year living in the hostel in Ipswich, Louise asked Jan if she could stay with her again and, of course, the answer was yes.

"Since coming back I think Louise has moved on in leaps and bounds," beams Jan.

"She's got herself through a course, she's got a really nice boyfriend and she's much more level-headed. She's just grown up so much and it's marvellous to think I've had the opportunity to see it and that she's had the opportunity to do it."

Despite the tough start in life Louise has had, she has remained in contact with her mum, but admits it's not the usual mother-daughter relationship.

"She is my mum, she'll always be my mum, but I look after her. She never had time to grow up and I've had this time to grow up and be an adult, whereas she's still sort of childlike."

Her circumstances have also affected her outlook on having children of her own. "I think it's best to wait until you're older and I wouldn't want to make the same mistakes as her."

"But I think in some sense, if I was to have a child, I know that I wouldn't because I know what I've been through and I wouldn't want to do that to a child."

To show her thanks to Jan, Louise nominated her for Carer of the Year in the Community Awards 2012 run by our sister paper Cambridge News. Together with Louise and her younger foster daughter, Jan attended the awards at Downing College last month, and was delighted to win the title.

"I was really thrilled to think Louise was so thoughtful to put me forward but in another way, I was just so shocked," says Jan. "I was chuffed, but I did think, 'why me?' I only do what I do."

Jan is extremely modest about her fostering role and also Kidzone, the group she runs in Newmarket for children and teenagers with additional needs, but the amount of time Jan gives to others doesn't go unnoticed by the people around her, in particular Louise.

"She's so busy," says Louise. "She's constantly doing something or looking after someone and I thought she needed some sort of recognition because she doesn't think that she does as much as she does."

Jan explains that all the children she has cared for over the years have had different needs and have all come to her under varying circumstances.

"No two children are ever the same but they all come with such enormous baggage and there are so many children that need foster care. It's quite sad really."

Earlier this year Jan was seriously poorly while on holiday and it has made her think about her future in fostering.

"I was really ill and the doctors didn't think I was going to make it. I had problems with my gallbladder and it had got to the extent where it was almost ready to burst. I was very poorly and it took me several months to get over it so I've decided that when Louise moves on I'm not going to have another long-term person."

"A lot of carers do need breaks and there are children who need emergency placements so I have said I will do that for the next couple of years."

Louise may be moving on again but this time it's to her own home and, as it's just a few minutes from Jan, she knows her foster mum will never be far away.

"It takes a lot to stand by someone who kicks back from you."

"I think of Jan like my family, she is my family, whether it's through birth or not doesn't really matter because I know she's always going to be there to give me a hug and tell me it's alright. In my eyes that's family."

Town gears up for real feast of festive fun

A VISIT from reindeers, an afternoon of ice skating and a Santa's Grotto are some of the many festive activities running in Haverhill in the lead up to Christmas.

As part of Haverhill Town Council's Christmas Weekend, the annual Family Christmas Night will run on Friday, December 7, and feature late night shopping, street entertainment and charity stalls.

The event will run in the town centre from 4pm until 9.30pm.

On the same night at 8.15pm, families are expected to flock to the free Grand Fireworks Display at Haverhill Recreation Ground.

On Super Saturday, December 8, children will be able to get up close and personal with real reindeers from 10am until 1pm and have a go at ice skating from 10am until 4pm in the Market Square. All activities are free.

A free Christmas Craft Fair will run at Haverhill Arts Centre on Friday, December 7, from 5pm until 8.30pm and the following day from 9.30am until 4pm.

Christmas Crackers, a free craft session hosted by Haverhill Volunteer Centre, will run in the café next to the arts centre on Friday, December 7, at 8.15pm and on Saturday, December 8, from 10am until midday.

A Victorian Christmas, which features traditional sounds of Victorian festivities including music, song, stories and drama, will also be performed in St Mary's Church.

It will be a night featuring Victorian Christmas and parlour songs and stories, kicking off at 7.30pm on Thursday, December 6. Tickets cost £7.50.

A Family Christmas Concert, performed by Haverhill Silver and Haverhill Youth and Community Bands, will take place on Sunday, December 9, at the arts centre.

Festive music and popular hits will be performed from 4pm as the bands come together to get residents in the mood for Christmas. The cost is £5 for adults and £2 children.

To book any events call the box office on (01440) 714040.

Victorian times: traditional sounds will be among the festivities.

Christmas All Wrapped Up

Bridge the gap: Christmas can be an emotional minefield.

Learn techniques to handle family sagas

Christmas is a time of joy, but it can also be a huge source of stress for many – especially if your family doesn't fit the 'traditional' 2.4 children mould. Psychologist Cary Cooper shares his advice for keeping festive fall-outs to a minimum

IF you're divorced and share custody of the children, or have a step family and two sets of in-laws, navigating the arrangements for the festive celebrations can pose an emotional minefield.

Psychologist Professor Cary Cooper is head of relationship counselling charity Relate and a panel member for the Centre for the Modern Family, which aims to improve understanding of families in the 21st century. Cooper points out that only 16 per cent of modern day families in the UK fit the traditional model, defined as two married parents living together with two or more children.

Having wed twice himself, with two children from each marriage, Cooper has first-hand experience of tackling complicated family arrangements, but he's confident that steps can be taken to keep stress to a minimum.

WHY THE STRESS?

According to Cooper, Christmas is stressful because, often, it is one of only two times of the year that the family has to reintegrate emotionally for a substantial period of time.

During the rest of the year, family members are only "tactically" connecting. "A characteristic of the modern family – traditional or otherwise – is they lead a very diverse life and only come together for a longish period of time over Christmas and family holidays.

"At Christmas, you're having to reintegrate with, say, your teenage kids, who during a normal week you're just doing tactical behaviour with: 'Who's picking you up?', 'Did you do your homework?', 'You're not listening very much; you're not talking very much'.

"Now, you're dumped in a box for 10 days, and that process of reintegrating is stressful because you're having to tolerate everybody else, whereas before you could just do your own thing."

With this in mind, it's no wonder spending more than a couple of days cooped up together can become intense. This is normal even when everybody gets on well. Throw tricky relationships into the mix, and tensions can rise even more.

For step families still in the early phase, adjusting to the new dynamics can take time, and members may barely know each other, let alone like each other.

PLAN AHEAD

Even the most 'perfect' of families will experience some degree of tension (or at least need a little breather every now and then!) at an extended gathering like Christmas so, first and foremost, don't be too hard on yourself and accept that it's normal to experience teething problems.

However, there are steps you can take to help keep festive feuds low and festive fun high, and planning ahead is a good place to start.

Be kind: To yourself as well as everyone else!

"Planning has to be early," says Cooper. "Plan the presents, who you're going to see and when. Particularly in a modern family with all the step kids and the shared custody, it causes a lot of conflict to do it two weeks before Christmas."

If planning involves interacting with an ex-partner with whom you're not on the best of terms, calling rather than emailing or texting is the safer option.

Celebrate Christmas' real gift

Nativity: Christmas reminds us of some basic home truths.

ARE you looking forward to Christmas or dreading it?

Of course, the answer to that question depends on many things. Most likely if you are a child you are already counting down the days until Christmas Day! If you are an adult, perhaps you are wishing there was more time to prepare or more money to pay for it all.

If you are approaching this Christmas with mixed feelings, I wonder if you are able to look back over the years and identify your perfect Christmas. What was it that made that time so special?

Year on year the season does seem to become increasingly commercialised and the pressure is on to spend on things that we don't really want or need.

One particular advertising slogan that caught my attention made the bold declaration: "Everything you need for the perfect Christmas!"

Everything? Well, no. Not quite. Once in Royal David's City is a traditional carol that many of you will remember singing. "For he is our childhood's pattern, day by day like us he grew. He was little weak and helpless. Tears and smiles like us he knew."

Yes, all true. "The word became flesh and made his dwelling among us."

The important words for me in the verse of this well known carol are "he grew". Just like our own children and those of our families and friends, Jesus grew.

Jesus is far more than our childhood's pattern. He is the one who calls us on to follow him throughout our whole lives. The infant Jesus with tiny outstretched hands in the manger became the grown

Festive fun at centre

A CHRISTMAS bonanza featuring stalls and games will take place in Kedington.

The parish church of St Peter and St Paul will run the event at Kedington Community Centre, in Arms Lane, on Saturday.

There will be a tombola, raffle, toys, books and other stalls at the afternoon, which starts at 2pm. Father Christmas will also be in his grotto.

Thieves raid garage

SPEAKERS, amplifiers, stage lighting and a PA system have been stolen from a garage.

Thieves broke into a garage in Broadcraft Crescent, Haverhill, between 4pm on November 10 and 1pm the next day to steal the equipment.

Police are appealing for witnesses and anyone who knows any information should call Suffolk Police on 101.

School's autumn event

AN autumn fair is taking place at a Haverhill Primary School next week. Stalls including a tombola, raffle, cakes and books will be run at the Clements Primary School event on Friday, November 30.

The event runs from 5pm until 7pm at the school, in Greenfields Way, and all proceeds will go towards the Friends of Clements fund.

MP backing for jobs fair

JOB hunters are encouraged to pop along to a fair at which more than 20 local employers will be exhibiting.

The Haverhill Jobs Fair, organised by West Suffolk MP Matthew Hancock, will include stands from local employers like Sainsbury's and Delstar Engineering when it comes to the town tomorrow.

The National Apprenticeship Service will be there explaining the opportunities available to people of all ages in starting an apprenticeship, and the National Careers Service can give advice to jobseekers and those looking to change jobs.

Exhibitors will run workshops and there will also be sessions about CV writing throughout the day.

Mr Hancock said: "I am delighted that the National Apprenticeship Service is going to join the many local employers who have agreed to come to the Jobs Fair.

"I am keen that we get as many people as possible involved in the Fair to ensure it does the maximum possible good for jobseekers in Haverhill.

"Apprenticeships provide a great way for people of all ages to earn and learn at the same time.

"The variety of opportunities on display should mean there is something for everyone."

The event takes place at Haverhill Football Club from 10am until 2pm and is free to attend.

Teaming up: Buzz Seager (Live Well Suffolk), James Powell (Optua), Tim Roberts (Live Well Suffolk), Cllr Jane Storey (deputy leader of Suffolk County Council), Bill Tancred (Suffolk Sport) and Chantelle Welham (Live Well Suffolk).

Active campaign is at market

THE team from Live Well Suffolk will be visiting the market in Haverhill today as part of a roadshow which will tour the county to raise awareness of the new Suffolk Get Active campaign.

Suffolk Get Active has been launched by Live Well Suffolk in partnership with Suffolk County Council, Suffolk Sport and disability charity Optua, as part of a county-wide response to the Olympic legacy.

The campaign aims to help Suffolk become England's most active county by raising awareness of the wide range of sports and leisure activities available throughout the county.

As part of their county-wide tour, the community health coaches from Live Well Suffolk will be speaking to visitors to the market about the campaign and giving details of a range of local discount offers available such as a free taster day pass to Abbeycroft Leisure Centre.

Tim Roberts, director of Live Well Suffolk said: "The visit to Haverhill market will give us the opportunity to speak to local people about the variety of sporting and leisure activities which are available on their doorstep.

"We want to get people aware of how easy it is to incorporate more physical activity into our daily routines."

I'll do what's best for our county, says police boss

LIZZY BUCHAN

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

THE new Police and Crime Commissioner (PCC) for Suffolk has promised he will not be "partisan or party political".

Tory candidate Tim Passmore was announced on Friday as the first Suffolk PCC after a nail-biting second count as Labour's Jane Basham had a lead of only 152 votes in the first round, less than the required 50 per cent of the vote.

In the first count, the results were Jane Basham-29,967, Tim Passmore 29,805, Independent David Cocks 14,217, UKIP's Bill Mountford 11,179.

The second round saw Mr Passmore win with 7,141 votes compared to 5,038 votes for Ms Basham.

He will step into his new role today after resigning as leader of Mid Suffolk District Council on Monday.

Mr Passmore, a self-employed rural and agricultural business consultant, said he was delighted by the news.

He said: "I am relieved in a way, as I knew it would be a

"I received the majority of second preference votes in all the districts so that is a clear endorsement."

He said: "I want to assure all the people, whether they voted for me or not, that I am a Suffolk person and this is not partisan or party political. "I want to do what is best for Suffolk."

Despite more optimistic predictions, the overall turnout for Suffolk was only 16 per cent, meaning only 88,497 out of the 552,780 eligible voters cast their votes. There were 7,263 spoiled ballot papers found during the count.

His first tasks as PCC will be to set the precept and set out the first ideas for the Police and Crime Plan for Suffolk.

First Responders is club's chosen charity

VOLUNTEERS who provide life-saving first aid in Haverhill have been announced as a rugby club's nominated charity.

Haverhill Community First Responders has been nominated by the town rugby club, which hopes to boost the charity's funds throughout the year. A number of fundraising events will be taking place throughout the year, from town bucket collections to sponsored events, and everyone is encouraged to get involved.

David Hasley, from Haverhill Rugby Club, said: "Following a number of high profile incidents in sport last year, the club felt it important to support this worthwhile charity, which supports the local community of Haverhill."

The First Responders are dispatched by the East of England ambulance service to life threatening and serious 999 calls at the same time as an ambulance to give victims potentially life-saving care before an ambulance is on the scene.

They are all trained volunteers who live and work within the community.

Haverhill First Responders is looking for more volunteers. If you are interested in finding out more, email haverhillcfr@gmail.com.

An offer you can't refuse...

In public, he's the jovial Italian who founded a successful restaurant chain – but Antonio Carluccio has always lived in the shadow of depression. Now he's written a painfully honest memoir and talks to EMMA HIGGINBOTHAM.

BELLA ITALIA: Antonio Carluccio is set to give Cambridge the benefit of his culinary expertise at the Union Chamber on Saturday.

IT'S a sunny autumn morning, and I'm chatting to Antonio Carluccio, restaurateur, star of Two Greedy Italians, author of more than a dozen cookery books and adopted 'national treasure'.

Sadly it's a telephone call, so I'm picturing the cuddly cook sitting in his London garden, surrounded by unfeasibly large vegetables, holding the phone (and a cigarette) in one hand and tickling his beloved sausage dog, Truffle, with the other.

How are you? I ask. "Fine! Everything's fine. It's a beautiful day," he wheezes, his accent still thick after nearly four decades on these shores.

The Godfather of Italian gastronomy is, he says, looking forward to coming to Cambridge ("I like it very much"), to talk about his new autobiography, A Recipe For Life. But don't expect an air-brushed, self-congratulatory account of success: while he's happy to chronicle his triumphs, Carluccio is honest – almost painfully so – about his family tragedies, failed romances and multiple suicide attempts.

Why did he decide to write it now? "Now? Before I lose my memory! Heheh. No, no, it was majorly to discover who I am, and there were patterns in my life I wanted to investigate."

And what did he find out? "Enough to write another memoir," he chuckles. "No, it has been very interesting to see the ups and downs of success and sadness."

"I was very adamant to tell the truth and nothing but the truth. And I did, and I'm very happy with that. I can turn the page. Something is done."

Born on the south coast of Italy in 1937, Carluccio's early days revolved around food, whether foraging for truffles with his brothers or scoffing his Mamma's delicious homemade fare. But learning to cook was yet to come.

Following the death of his adored younger brother Enrico, who drowned aged just 13, a heart-broken Carluccio, then 23, left Italy to study languages in Vienna. "I was alone, I was a student, and I wanted to eat the food that my mother used to prepare. So I had to cook it," he says.

"I started, naturally, with pasta sauce, the simple thing! And then slowly I gained confidence, and saw that it was successful with friends – and girls."

Carluccio went on to work in the wine trade, and in fact didn't become involved in restaurants until the early 80s. By now living in London and on his third marriage – to Terence Conran's sister, Priscilla – he was invited to run Conran's Neal Street Restaurant as manager. Before long he owned it and, in the early 90s, opened a deli, Carluccio's, next door. A decade later it had become – and continues to be – a thriving high street deli/restaurant chain in the UK and abroad. Carluccio has since sold up, but continues to act as consultant.

But success didn't equate with happiness for Carluccio, who has long battled with depression. In 2008, following the failure of his 28-year marriage, he locked himself in his bathroom and plunged a pair of scissors into his chest.

His PA called an ambulance and, when he was released from hospital, Carluccio checked himself into The Priory. The official line was that he'd accidentally cut himself while sharpening a knife: it's only now that he's come clean.

"I've never met somebody who has had only a happy life – and if he has, he lies," says Carluccio.

"It's something that many people think about, and I tried to do it. So I can't hide that, but it happened. At the beginning, I wanted to avoid more aggravation from the press, so I let them scramble, but now I'm strong enough to say what happened. Fortunately it ended in a good sense, and I'm happy to be here."

The Priory, he says, was "fantastic. And there is also a message for people in a similar situation: there is help around the corner, use it. As you see now I am totally calm. I managed to get through it."

Does he still get depressed? "No, no, I'm very happy. The work is fantastic, and at 75, getting the sort of work that I do is just unbelievable. And I have a lovely woman – that keeps me young!"

He's been with the woman in question, Sabine, for a year, which may disappoint his legion of female fans: is it true he's had 15 marriage proposals? "Yes, it's very silly. Heheh."

A theme that runs throughout the book is the solace Carluccio finds in preparing food. But can anyone cook? "Anyone!" he bellows. "Anyone with a bit of patience and the will to eat good food. It can be very simple, you don't have to be a gourmet: just go into the kitchen and try, try, try."

Does he ever think 'ah, I can't be bothered to cook' and buy a ready meal? "What? No!" he laughs, then pauses: "I had a kebab once. It was quite good, actually," he adds, sounding ever-so-slightly disappointed.

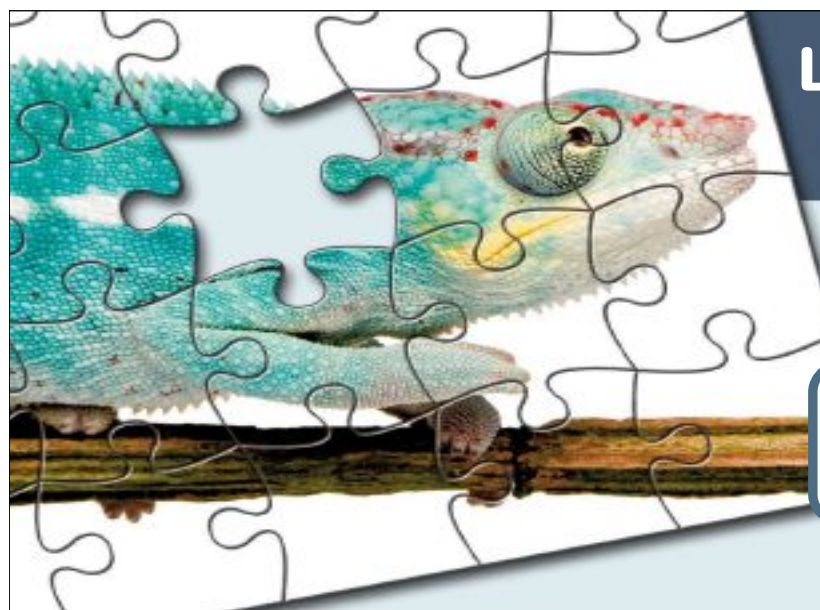

What would his last supper be? "A lovely spaghetti with fresh tomatoes, a few leaves of basil and a little bit of garlic would be quite nice." Not caviar? "No, no! There's nothing wrong with it, I love it in fact, but I prefer spaghetti."

Hopefully the jovial cook's last supper is a long way off. And at least, he says, writing his autobiography has meant that he's finally at peace with himself.

"It was difficult, because you have to go back to memories that are not exactly pleasant, but all together it was very good. It was a good exercise for the mind – and the soul."

■ A Recipe For Life by Antonio Carluccio is published in hardback by Hardie Grant, priced £20.

■ Antonio Carluccio: Memoirs, chaired by Bee Wilson, is at the Union Chamber, Saturday at 2.30pm. Tickets are £10/£8 from www.adclicktelling.com or (01223) 300085.

A ten-year milestone

THIS month sees Cambridge's literary festival staging the biggest winter programme in its 10-year history.

Politics and current affairs dominate the line-up for the three-day Winter Wordfest, which takes place from November 23-25.

Pundits and presenters including BBC political editor Nick Robinson and Newsnight anchor Gavin Esler will join former and serving politicians such as Labour veteran Tony Benn, former Home and Foreign Secretary Jack Straw, Tottenham MP David Lammy and scourge of the Murdoch press Tom Watson for wide-ranging discussions of some of the day's most pressing issues.

From the present to the past, Andrew Marr will be in town to discuss his major new book and BBC series A History of the World and Cambridge historians Christopher Clark and Orlando Figes will share their latest works on the First and Second World Wars respectively.

Kate Summerscale, bestselling author of The Suspicions of Mr Whicher, will also feed the appetite for history, narrating the true story of a scandalous crime which rocked Victorian England.

It's not all fact over fiction, though – the festival will also welcome some of the biggest names in contemporary literature, including well-loved novelists Edna O'Brien and Rose Tremain, while bestselling authors Kate Mosse and Joanne Harris will join forces to discuss their latest novels, both with a distinctly French flavour.

Other highlights include a special show by the nation's favourite performance poet, John Hegley.

"The festival began through an enthusiasm for books," explains Wordfest director Cathy Moore.

"I was working as a bookseller in Waterstone's and the idea formed as a result of talking about the Hay Festival, and what a shame it was that Cambridge didn't have anything similar, with local author Ali Smith.

"As I cycled home that day the idea began to take shape and I organised the first event for the following March. It started off a lot smaller than it is now and was only held once a year. It was a financial risk, but also a great time-filler, and lots of fun."

Over the intervening decade, the festival has grown and grown.

"The defining moment when I realised the festival was a success was probably when I was at the Babbage lecture theatre and there were 450 people leaving an event with Philip Pullman and another 450 queuing to go in and see John Simpson," Cathy says.

"Cambridge audiences are very particular, as well as rigorous and demanding. It's probably the only city where there'd be queues around the block to see Simon Baron Cohen and empty seats during a David Baddiel event.

wordfest
2012 winter

"Non-fiction sells better in Cambridge than fiction, which used to surprise me as my passion was fiction."

Cathy says her dream guests would be John Irving, Margaret Atwood and Joyce Carol Oates. In the meantime, she's assembled perhaps the strongest line-up yet for this year's winter festival, an event that looks set to do Wordfest – and Cambridge – proud.

■ Winter Wordfest takes place on November 23, 24 and 25.

The big film

GAMBIT certificate 12A, 1h 29m

MICHAEL Hoffman's remake of the 1966 screwball caper about a cat burglar and showgirl who plan an elaborate heist has impeccable credentials.

Screenwriters Joel and Ethan Coen have Oscars on the mantelpiece for Fargo and No Country for Old Men, while leading man Colin Firth deservedly collected a golden statuette for his exemplary work in The King's Speech.

In addition, co-star Tom Courtenay was twice shortlisted for Hollywood's top honour for Doctor Zhivago and The Dresser, while Hoffman himself guided Helen Mirren and Christopher Plummer to Oscar nominations in 2009 for the handsome historical drama The Last Station.

With so much talent in front of and behind the camera, what could possibly go wrong? Everything, it seems, because Hoffman's reworking is an unmitigated mess.

Mild-mannered art curator Harry Deane (Firth) grows tired of the constant bullying of his obscenely wealthy boss, Lord Lionel Shabandar (Alan Rickman) so he concocts an elaborate swindle to teach his employer a lesson.

With the help of loyal friend and forger The Major (Courtenay), Harry travels to Texas to befriend rodeo queen PJ Puznowski (Cameron Diaz) and her tobacco-spitting grandma (Cloris Leachman).

Harry asks the blonde beauty to pose as the owner of a priceless Monet called Haystacks At Dusk, which Shabandar is desperate to acquire as a companion canvas to the other Haystacks in his private collection.

The masterpiece is actually a fake painted by The Major but Harry is convinced he can pull the wool over Shabandar's greedy eyes.

Thrilled by the prospect of a sizeable payoff, PJ travels to London to carry out her part of the plan and Shabandar is clearly smitten by her.

However, he is less convinced by the authenticity of the painting and calls in his own expert, the flamboyant Zaidenweber (Stanley Tucci), which throws Harry's preposterous plan into disarray.

Gambit is a shambles. We laugh out of pity and embarrassment as the script blunders from dream sequences that suggest Harry might actually pull off his hare-brained heist.

Firth loses his trousers for a protracted centrepiece sequence at the luxurious five-star Savoy Hotel in London... but Gambit loses its way well before then, wheezing and spluttering from one clumsy gag to the next.

The only award Firth will be collecting is a dreaded Razzie, which salutes the worst in Hollywood film-making.

"This is absurd," despairs Firth, standing half naked on the hotel ledge as he stares down on passing black cabs.

You said it, Colin.

Giving a welcome to wildlife

ATHIRD of us are actively trying to encourage wildlife into our gardens – an increase of more than 30% compared with four years ago, according to research by the Horticultural Trades Association (HTA).

More products targeted at the wild bird market are available in garden centres and we can choose feeding regimes which will attract birds that we most want to see in our gardens, says the HTA, the trade association for the UK garden industry.

Indeed, some 62% of us now regularly feed the birds in our garden and nearly a quarter provide nesting and breeding habitats.

But birds are not the only wildlife we can look after during the winter months and beyond.

By making leafy habitats and cosy

by Hannah Stephenson

corners, we will provide shelter for small animals who need to hibernate uninterrupted and for beneficial insects who will stop the nuisances ones such as aphids in their tracks.

Leave stones laid over hollows for toads, newts and even slow worms, as well as centipedes which prey on slugs. Pile up a few logs, which don't need to be massive, in a quiet, shady spot and soon stag beetles, spiders and bees will be making a home out of this damp log cabin.

Log piles may also be housing slugs

and snails, which in turn will attract blackbirds and wood mice looking for a meal, while hedgehogs may also forage for insects and slugs.

Try not to make your garden too tidy if you want to provide shelter for wildlife. Areas of long grass and piles of leaves, stones and twigs provide shelter for many beneficial insects and small mammals. Always check carefully for signs of life by gently turning over autumn bonfires before lighting them.

Ladybirds gather in large clusters to overwinter on dead plant stems, particularly in more sheltered parts of the garden.

Helping them through winter will mean fewer aphids in late spring, when ladybird larvae begin to eat them.

There's a wide variety of foods available which attract different species of bird to your garden. Robins and blackbirds love plump, juicy mealworms which will provide a good source of protein, fat and valuable moisture.

Seed mixes are full of nutritional value and are eagerly consumed by most species. Straight seeds such as sunflower hearts are the first choice for many birds and black sunflowers are enjoyed by chaffinches, greenfinches, sparrows and tits. Nyjer seeds are nirvana for goldfinches and siskins.

Keeping bird feeders and baths well stocked all winter will not only help our feathered friends but also encourages them to explore other nooks and crannies in your garden, where overwintering slugs, caterpillars and other larvae are waiting to be eaten.

Avoid cutting hedges until the end of winter to provide valuable shelter for birds and give them more time to eat the berries. Wait until March to cut back ivy growing up walls and fences, so the berries will be available to birds and the foliage can provide a foraging shelter for insect-eaters such as tits.

If you have a pond, put a few clay roof tiles in it to provide shelter for overwintering frogs and other aquatic wildlife. By helping wildlife through the winter months, beneficial insects, birds and other animals will have a head start in spring.

Your Homesnow Guide to Moving Home

Moving home can be a complicated business and in the hectic run up to the big day it is all too easy to forget something vital. The Homesnow team offers their readers this handy checklist to help avoid any major pitfalls. We suggest you tick them off as you go....

www.homesnow.co.uk

1 4-2 WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Packing – start packing and sorting through your belongings. Now is a good time to de-clutter and pack items rarely used. Make sure you have plenty of sturdy boxes, bubble wrap and sticky tape.
- ☐ Removal companies – get estimates from removal companies, checking that comprehensive insurance cover is available against damage or loss. Is there a packing and unpacking service? Confirm the date of your move with the firm you have chosen.
- ☐ Insurance – check on your home contents insurance policies to ensure that you are covered for the move, and covered at your new address.
- ☐ Utilities – make arrangements for your gas and electricity meters (plus water meters where relevant) to be read and all your appliances to be disconnected on the day of your move. Arrange to take over gas and electricity at your new address, and make sure that all appliances will be properly fitted, plumbed or connected.
- ☐ Telecommunications – Notify your telephone and broadband provider and ask them to make the necessary arrangements for a final account at your present address, and for taking over or installing telephone and broadband facilities at your new home.
- ☐ Post – Look into re-directing your post for a few months to make sure you receive all relevant correspondence.
- ☐ Children – Look into the possibility of your children, especially young children, staying with family or friends on the day of the move.
- ☐ Pets – Make arrangements for any pets to be booked into a cattery or kennels if required. Having your pets microchipped is a good idea and if already microchipped, have the address changed to your new one. Your vet can advise on this.

2

Change of address – tell companies and organisations that you are moving!

Notify:

- ☐ Employer
- ☐ Inland revenue
- ☐ Local council
- ☐ Banks or Building Societies
- ☐ Credit companies, store cards & other accounts
- ☐ Gas, Electricity and water boards
- ☐ Insurance companies
- ☐ Land / mobile phones
- ☐ Internet and cable / satellite TV providers
- ☐ Doctor, Dentist and Opticians
- ☐ DVLA
- ☐ Veterinary surgery
- ☐ TV Licensing

3

1 WEEK TO GO:

- ☐ Delivery address – change delivery address of your Cambridge News, milk, groceries and fuel to your new address as appropriate.
- ☐ Laundry – do any last minute laundry that you can – have you arranged for a plumber to disconnect your washing machine correctly?

- ☐ Kitchen cupboards – go through your kitchen cupboards and throw out anything not in date. Also check that all jars and bottles are correctly sealed before packing.
- ☐ Fridges / Freezers – empty and clean out in preparation for moving. If you are moving a freezer and its contents, turn it up to maximum for a couple of days before you move.
- ☐ Valuables / documents – put these in safe place for moving day

4 2-1 DAYS TO GO:

- ☐ Packing – pack a bag for overnight essentials and toiletries and finish all remaining packing into boxes. Remember to label which room each box is destined for.
- ☐ Snack box – pack a box for the kitchen to include essentials like tea, coffee and sugar, as well as the kettle and mugs! Also include other snacks as necessary.
- ☐ Dismantle and disconnect – take down curtains, fixtures and fittings and disconnect white goods ready for transport.
- ☐ Outdoor items – make sure that these are stacked together and ready to be moved.
- ☐ Mobile – place your mobile on charge the night before moving and ensure that all relevant people have your number.

5 ON MOVING DAY:

AT YOUR OLD ADDRESS:

- ☐ Strip beds and pack bedding and nightclothes.
- ☐ Finish packing toiletries box.
- ☐ Direct removal firm personnel or friends helping you move as to what needs to be done.
- ☐ Turn off electric appliances.
- ☐ Disconnect cooker.
- ☐ Turn off boiler / central heating.
- ☐ Turn off water.
- ☐ Read gas meter.
- ☐ Read electricity meter.
- ☐ Secure all windows.
- ☐ Lock all doors.
- ☐ Make final checks and leave key as arranged with new owners.

AT YOUR NEW HOME:

- ☐ Open up & have a look around the new house.
- ☐ Locate fuse box, gas and electric meter and stop cock for reference.
- ☐ Take readings on gas, electric and water meters as appropriate.
- ☐ Organise the direction of boxes to appropriate rooms.
- ☐ Check the van after all is unloaded.
- ☐ Make the beds up for the evening.
- ☐ Sit down and relax – unpack the other boxes the next day.

Autogas champions alternative fuel cause

WITH the fuel duty debate once again hitting the headlines, Autogas Limited is championing more affordable motoring by reminding struggling drivers and businesses how much money they could save simply by switching to autogas LPG.

Paul Oxford, business development manager, Autogas Limited, said: "The bid to delay the proposed fuel duty increase has just been defeated."

"But it's not all bad news because hard-hit motorists could actually save a small fortune on their car fuel bills for the long-term just by converting to LPG."

Current UK average forecourt prices show that LPG is the cheapest of the three main fuel types at just 76.4 pence per litre, nearly half that of unleaded at 135.1 pence per litre.

Put into context, the savings achieved when switching to LPG are even more remarkable.

A driver covering just 12,000 miles a year with an average fuel consumption of 40 mpg can enjoy annual fuel savings of around £600 against petrol when using LPG.

Such are the cost saving implications of switching to LPG, as well as its considerable environmental benefits, that its merits have just been reported by MoneySupermarket.co, a leading price comparison website.

And according to consumer organisation Which? rising fuel prices are the number one consumer worry with a survey conducted on its behalf suggesting that 39 per cent of people would cut back on their motoring costs.

The report also goes on to state that one in 10 had dipped into their savings to cover motoring costs.

Mr Oxford said: "The economic squeeze and high fuel prices are changing how people behave towards their cars."

"However, the simple truth is that cheap motoring really still is possible."

"Typically LPG users enjoy annual savings of up to 40 per cent in their fuel costs, which puts the 3p fuel duty debate into perspective."

The cheaper fuel is readily available with more than 1,400 LPG refuelling stations across the UK, including at the UK's largest forecourt facility at the recently opened Shell Cobham services on the M25.

First-week success as Ford's stylish B-Max goes on sale

MORE than 1,000 Ford B-Max models have been delivered to customers, proving the appetite for this stylish new entrant to the B-MAX segment is strong. More than 2,500 orders have been received, the majority prior to the vehicle arriving in UK dealerships.

Ford B-Max sales are overwhelmingly to private customers (63 per cent) with 22 per cent to Motability customers and the remainder to fleets.

Anthony Ireson, Ford Britain marketing director, said: "We ran a Ford B-Max promotional campaign offering the chance to win unusual prizes that would not normally be available to the general public. Over 70,000 of those participating clicked through to an online Ford B-Max configurator so we knew there was strong appeal from the start, but even so we were amazed by the true level of interest – especially since most customers placed orders before they had even been to a showroom."

The stylish new Ford B-Max offers a unique and ingenious door system which integrates the traditional central "B" pillar structure into the rear doors, creating an opening more than 1.5 metres wide when the hinged front doors and rear sliding doors are opened. This wider opening enables easy side loading, easier ingress and egress and coupled with the fold flat passenger and rear seats, delivers great flexibility.

Technology features on the Ford B-Max include SYNC, Ford's voice-activated, in-car connectivity system which enables users to connect mobile phones and music players by Bluetooth or USB, make hands-free telephone calls, and control music using voice controls. The system will read text messages aloud from compatible phones and offers the new Emergency Assistance feature designed to call a local emergency services operator in the event of an accident.

The Ford B-Max is equipped with a choice of fuel efficient powertrains. The new 1.0-litre EcoBoost petrol engine, named "International Engine of the Year 2012" and most recently awarded the Dewar Trophy, is available with both 100 and 120PS power outputs. The 120PS engine features Ford's Auto-Start-Stop system as standard and achieves class-leading CO2 emissions of 114g/km and an average fuel consumption of 57.7mpg.

Other petrol engine options include the 1.4-litre and 1.6-litre Duratec engines, the latter is paired with Ford's PowerShift six-speed automatic transmission. For those preferring a diesel engine, there is the 1.6-litre Duratorq TDCi with best-in-class CO2 emissions of 104g/km and a 75PS 1.5-litre diesel appearing for the first time in the UK.

The Ford B-Max is priced from £12,995.

SsangYong adds low-cost Korando 4x4 commercial option to its range

SSANGYONG is adding a new low-priced 4x4 light commercial model to its Korando range – the Korando CSX.

Ideal as a small delivery van, go-anywhere vehicle for service engineers or simply a light commercial to ensure you reach your destination whatever the weather or terrain, the 4x4 Korando CSX makes the perfect business partner.

And with a price from just £15,995 on the road ex VAT and a 5-year limitless mileage warranty, it is also a sound commercial business decision.

Italian car designer Giugiaro, of Ital Design, penned the lines but this latest addition to the Korando range is also a highly practical workhorse.

The completely flat load area is accessed via a high lifting tailgate or two side doors, and packs a useful 1,312 cubic litre load volume. There's a load deck length of 152.5 cm, and 96.5

Willing workhorse: The new Korando CSX commercial.

cm between the wheel arches. The car also carries a very practical 433 kg payload, and willingly pulls a 2 tonne trailer.

Under the bonnet, the Korando CSX is powered by a new lower CO2 version of the Korando power unit. Developing 149ps@4,000rpm, this advanced 2.0 litre four cylinder turbo diesel engine produces 360Nm of torque with CO2 emissions reduced to 157g/km.

And for when the weather turns nasty and the going gets tough, the new CSX features an impressive torque on demand 4x4 system.

The system constantly monitors the level of grip available and distributes power to the wheels that need it most.

The CSX is also equipped with ESP with hill start assist, and mud & snow tyres as standard.

Drivers will enjoy the luxury touches of roof rails, tinted glass and rear parking sensors, while inside there is a leather-covered steering wheel and gear shift, cruise control and a Kenwood MP3 CD & RDS radio with iPod &

Bluetooth connectivity, remote audio controls and six speakers.

Paul Williams, CEO of SsangYong Motor UK, said: "The new Korando CSX is the third light commercial vehicle (LCV) to join the SsangYong line-up, and offers a highly practical and affordable vehicle for those with a specific business need."

"Highly competitively priced, extremely well equipped and backed by a 5-year limitless mileage warranty, SsangYong is the only manufacturer to have that much confidence in its commercial vehicles to give its customers this level of reassurance."

"SsangYong has a growing reputation for building extremely competent off-road vehicles, and the new Korando CSX builds on this pedigree."

"It's an honest, reliable and highly capable LCV, and pound for pound will outclass more expensive rivals."

Fit: 28 ladies in one Mini is a world record.

How many women can you fit in a Mini?

A TEAM of gym members from East Sussex have smashed two Guinness World Records for the number of people inside a classic Mini and a 2012 model.

Twenty-eight flexible ladies crammed into the Mini Hatch at Potters Fields Park, London as part of the eighth annual Guinness World Records day. The team broke their own previous record of 27 people, set in Eastbourne last year.

The ladies made full use of every inch of space available including the dashboard, the footwells and they even managed to squeeze four in the boot.

As soon as they celebrated their first record the ladies dashed off to the ITV studios to attempt the second record live on This Morning where, by squeezing a staggering 23 ladies into a classic Mini, they beat the previous record by two!

EU ruling on insurance is 'a mystery'

MORE than a quarter of Brits (26 per cent) are unaware that their car insurance premiums will soon be affected by a European gender ruling, according to AA Insurance.

Women are least likely to be aware (29 per cent) that insurers will no longer be able take gender into account when calculating a driver's car insurance premium, according to an AA/Populus survey of 22,713 AA members.

Yet women are most likely to see their premiums increase under the new law – young women particularly could see their annual premiums rocket by 25 per cent or more.

The new ruling comes into effect on December 21, just weeks away. Yet respondents were vague about when the change would happen: of those aware of the law, 40 per cent had 'no idea' when it was going to come into effect and 23 per cent thought it was happening next year.

Young drivers aged 18-24 are most aware (78 per cent) of the change in law, which follows a ruling last March by the European Court of Justice. At present, young women pay premiums that can be 40 per cent cheaper than their male counterparts.

Simon Douglas, director of AA Insurance, said young men are 10 times more likely to be killed or seriously injured in a car crash than those aged 35 or over and more than twice as likely as young women to suffer a serious collision.

"Calculating premiums based on that risk is fair and it works," he says. "But it has been abandoned in favour of gender equality."

"For many years, insurers have charged young men much higher premiums than young women because they are so much more likely to make expensive insurance claims. But as they get older, the difference between men and women in the number and cost of claims they make reduces and from around age 40, men and women pay similar premiums.

"People in middle age and above are least likely to be affected by the ruling."

When asked whether they expected their own premiums to go up following the ruling, 49 per cent thought that they would while 38 per cent thought it would make no difference.

Women were more concerned, with 66 per cent against 40 per cent of men expecting to see a rise in the cost of their annual policy.

Of the group most likely to be affected, those aged 18-25, 72 per cent of women thought their premium would rise while 35 per cent of men thought theirs would fall.

Most insurance companies are likely to be offering gender-neutral policies by the end of November, including AA Insurance.

Mr Douglas said: "Those expecting to renew or take out cover over the next couple of months may be advised to get a quote as soon as possible."

MOORCROFT POTTERY AT THE THAXTED PARISH CHURCH CHRISTMAS FAYRE

Saturday, 24th November 10am - 1pm

Moorcroft, England's best-loved art pottery based in Stoke-on-Trent, will take part in the 2012 Thaxted Parish Church Christmas Fayre.

Highlights will include:

- New exclusive Christmas pieces including limited editions.
- A fine selection of slightly less-than perfect giftware pieces.
- The Moorcroft Collectors' Club offering exclusive designs to members.
- The opportunity to join the Collectors' Club for yourself or a friend - an ideal Christmas present.

Other stalls planned will include:
Pots and Plants • Christmas Cards
Raffle • Preserves and Jams
Cakes and Biscuits
Christmas Decorations
New Gifts • Bric-a-Brac
Books • Bottle Tombola
Jewellery • Handmade Crafts • Refreshments

A unique opportunity to snap up the remainder to the Thaxted Remembered limited edition vase, Guildhall models and other special Thaxted pieces both perfect and graded. All proceeds of sale of these items will go to Thaxted Church.

EMPLOYER LINKS COORDINATOR

for schools and colleges in the Cambridge Area
14-19 Partnership

The Cambridge Area 14-19 Partnership (CAP) consists of the state-funded secondary schools and post-16 colleges in Cambridge, East Cambs and South Cambs. Jointly with a range of local employers, CAP is planning to promote education-business links in order that young people have a better knowledge of the opportunities available to them and develop the skills that employers need.

To lead the project, CAP wishes to appoint an Employer Links Coordinator to start as soon as possible. Key elements of the role are building relationships, coordinating work experience and recruiting employer champions for each school and college. It is for two years in the first instance with the possibility of renewal if funding is available.

The post is 50% of full time. It could be a secondment or self-employment. Hours are flexible. Salary is in the range £35,000 - £42,000 pro rata, depending on qualifications and experience. The post-holder will become part of the current CAP team.

For further details, role description and application form, contact John Godwood, CAP Manager, j.godwood@ntlworld.com or see www.cambridgeareapartnership.org.uk. Applications, with covering letter, should be sent to John Godwood by Friday 7 December. Interviews will be on Wednesday 19 December.

It's something to Crow about!

Wickhambrook 4 Newmarket Tn 1
CAMBRIDGE & DISTRICT COLTS LEAGUE,
UNDER-17A

DAVID Crowley scored twice as Wickhambrook made it three wins on the bounce.

Tom Warnock saw a rasping 25-yard drive go just wide before Crowley opened the scoring midway through the first half, latching on to a defensive error and neatly lobbing the keeper.

Brook had two strong penalty appeals turned down, and it remained 1-0 at half time.

The hosts took the game to their opponents in the second period and went two up when skipper Harry Willett chased down the keeper as he dallied, forced an error and was first to react to the loose ball to stroke home.

Newmarket pulled one back when a free kick was volleyed home at the back post, but Wickhambrook would not be denied the win, and man-of-the-match Jack Whiting's cross was kept alive by Sam Clayton at the back post and he crossed for Crowley to thump home a header.

Newmarket should have reduced the deficit but contrived to hit the woodwork twice, while Brook's Ross Whiting had the ball in the net only for it to be ruled out for offside.

The hosts had the last say with the goal of the game, Whiting delivering for Clayton to thunder a volley into the top corner.

Hardwick Harriers 2 West Wrating 2
CAMBS MINI LEAGUE, UNDER-11B

WRATTING twice came from behind to earn a point.

The hosts took the lead in the 11th minute, only for James Iron to level eight minutes later.

Hardwick took the lead again just before the break, but Cameron Reid found the net in the second half to make it all square.

Teversham 11 West Wrating 0
CAMBS COUNTY CUP, UNDER-13

A DEPLETED West Wrating crashed out as Teversham pounced on an early mistake to take the lead, and never looked back.

Ronnie Ledwith's exit through injury further weakened Wrating and Teversham exploited the gap to go 3-0 up at half time.

Any hope of a fightback was finished at the start of the second half when a corner was met with an uncontested header that sailed into the top corner for Teversham's fourth.

Wrating began to lose shape and control and shipped a further seven goals before the end.

Comberton Crusaders 1 Haverhill Rov 1
S-TECH CAMBS GIRLS' LEAGUE, UNDER-14S

A GAME of few chances ended all square as players on both sides struggled with a heavy pitch.

Comberton shaded the first half, and Niamh Griggs was kept on her toes in the Haverhill goal with a couple of good saves.

Rovers started brightly after the break and Bethany Knight scored with a low shot, before twice hitting a post. Comberton equalised with 10 minutes left, but neither team could find a winner.

The boys in blue: Thurlow Whites under-nines show off their new kit, sponsored by local company DG Landscapes & Sons of Haverhill. The company owner Paul Godsmark's son Samuel plays for the team, which is managed by Wayne Gardner. CP

Determined Haverhill outclassed

Royston 71 Haverhill 5
UNDER-15

HAVERHILL, confident after their previous win against Witham, were on the back foot from the start against their tough hosts.

Royston started to work through some phase play, and the cohesion between their forwards and backs was impressive.

This link-up allowed Royston to move the ball well through their back-line to run in for their first score.

The hosts began to dominate and score at regular intervals, and the try-count could have been far higher if not for the dogged determination and aggressive tackling of Brad Call, Dan Crawshaw and Dan French.

Haverhill continued to show resolve and battled hard, making Royston work hard at every breakdown.

At the interval, Royston were cruising and Haverhill were now playing for pride and a shuffle of personnel in the pack and at scrum-half saw Haverhill start the second half in a more promising manner.

Mitchell Morgan, playing for the first time as open-side flanker, grew in confidence and Jack Sheppard, now playing at full-back, shored up the backs.

With the team now working better as a unit, the Royston line was broken on several occasions by French, Crawshaw and the excellent Call.

It was a break from man of the match Call which allowed Haverhill to score their consolation try midway through the second half, Crawshaw touching down after a maul. Josh Moseley narrowly missed the conversion.

Although outclassed, Haverhill never gave up, with credit to Bradley Richardson, in his first full game of rugby, and Kit Browne, returning to the side after illness.

» Youth cricket

HAVERHILL'S young cricketers celebrated their 2012 achievements at the club's annual awards presentation. The pick of the under-11 and under-14 players received their trophies. They included, above from left, Marcus Richards (under-11 outstanding achievement), Zak Bailey (under-11 bowler), Patrick Meadows (under-11 batsman), William Bailey (under-14 batsman) and Ben Shannon (under-14 bowler). Winter training has already begun at Samuel Ward School's indoor facilities on Friday nights from 6pm to 8pm until mid-December under the guidance of head coach Adam Dellar. New and existing youth players are welcome. CP

Vase joy after Matt's finish

Last-gasp strike puts HSA into third round

Vase heroes:
Goalscorer Harry Halls (above right), goalkeeper Liam Cutts (above left) and Aaron
action against Dereham.

Pictures: Gary
Brown (CP).

AN acrobatic volley from Matt Clarke deep into injury time saw Haverhill Sports Association cause the shock of the round by dispatching visitors Dereham out of the Vase.

In a tight first half, Liam Cutts in the HSA goal made a fine early save, while Harry Halls and Aaron Forshaw both had shots on target for the hosts, but it remained goalless at the break.

In the second half HSA began to exert greater pressure, and Dereham keeper Andy Wilton appeared lucky to receive only a caution when he blocked Ben Bradley's shot with his arm when well outside the penalty area.

Haverhill took the lead after 61 minutes when a cross bounced up and struck the arm of Adam Gusterson, with Harry Halls calmly converting the resulting penalty.

Dereham substitute Scott Sutherland Gray was then dismissed before touching the ball, after he followed through on Cutts after the keeper had made a low save.

Haverhill Sports Association 2
Dereham Tn 1
FA VASE, SECOND ROUND

Dereham, stung by the dismissal, roared back into the game, and equalised six minutes later when Craig Bussens rose highest at a corner and powerfully headed the ball past Cutts.

Both sides then went searching for the winner. With the hosts defending stoutly, further Dereham pressure was resisted.

In the 90th minute a Clarke header was clawed out of the goal by Wilton, who then made a fine save from a Forshaw shot.

There was however little he could do in the third minute of stoppage time as Clarke latched on to a back header and volleyed powerfully into the back of the net to send Haverhill into the third round.

Their reward is a home game with Sussex's Peacehaven & Telscombe, scheduled for December 8.

We're in great shape for new boss – Betts

PETER Betts believes Haverhill Rovers are close to announcing his successor as first-team manager, but he will still be in charge for Saturday's Thurlow Nunn League Premier Division match at Ely City.

Rovers' good form has continued in the past week, with a 1-0 victory over Norwich United last weekend followed by a 5-1 win over Halstead Town in the first round of the Red Insure Cup on Tuesday night.

"We're close to a decision being made," said Betts. "Something will probably be announced next week."

"I'll be in charge for the game against Ely and we'll have a look at it from there."

"From a football perspective, it's all looking very positive. We've won seven of our last 11 games now which is great form."

"Usually when a manager leaves, the team is in a bit of a mess, but my replacement will inherit a good group of players full of confidence and a club that's winning."

Ely City's improved form means Saturday's match will be a hard-fought affair, and Betts will not be taking the hosts lightly.

"Ely is a hard place to go," he continued. "The pitch is horrible and they play in a way that's maybe not very pretty on the eye but it's effective for them and it's why they were second last season."

"We've got a lot of respect for them and we'll be putting out a full-strength side. Saying that, they should be worried about us. We're very confident and are playing well. It will be an interesting game."

"What means a lot to me is that the players have not started taking it easy. Usually when they know a manager is going to be leaving, their form drops and they start going through the motions."

"But they've rolled their sleeves up and are working really hard, just as they did the first day I arrived. I can't speak highly enough of them."

Rovers' 1-0 win at Norwich was achieved through a Marc Abbott goal, and was their fifth win in six matches.

That became six in seven with the 5-1 victory over Halstead on Tuesday as Callum Harrison scored twice and Marcus Hunt, Dan Cornwell and Sam Holmes were also on target as Rovers moved into the second round.
